Deals Death and Destruction to Many

Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Louisville, etc., red by the scourge. All the Great Centers of Population Affected.

The depressing effects of the present epidemic of Grip are apparent everywhere. Teachers, clerks, business men, mechanics, laborers, street car drivers, school children, police officers and even the doctors all turn victims by the hundreds.

No remedy yet discovered can show results equal to Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine. It quickly overcomes the excessive exhaustion, invigorates the appetite and assists nature to throw off the deadly microbes from the system. In times of epidemic like the present it should be taken as a preventive of disease.

"Grip had left me a physical wreck; weak, helpless and miserable. I could not eat, could not sleep; could not gain any strength, and had nervous prostration of the worst kind. Our home physician could not help me and I commenced using Dr. Miles' Nervine. The first night's sleep that I had had in four months came as the result of two first doses. When I had taken two bottles I felt better than I had before in years, and continued to improve until I was entirely cured."

AGAINST EXPANSION

Senator Daniel Says the Treaty Is a Marriage of Nations.

FILIPINOS AND AMERICANS

Will Be One and He Hopes the Banns Will Be Forbidden—Historians Will Write the Decadence of America From the Ratification of the Treaty. Fly In Our Ointment.

Washington, Feb. 4.—For more than five hours yesterday the senate listened to arguments in opposition to expansion and in opposition to the ratification of the treaty of peace. The speakers were Mr. Money (Mississippi) and Mr. Daniel (Virginia). The former's address was comparatively brief.

Mr. Daniel made an exhaustive argument, in which he covered all the points in controversy. His speech was a brilliant oratorical effort, his picture of the situation in the Philippines and his peroration in which he appealed to his colleagues not to depart from the history and traditions of the nation were beautiful specimens of oratory. Mr. Daniel said in part:

"Today we are the United States of America. Tomorrow, if a certain treaty now pending before this body be ratified, we will be the United States of America and Asia."

He is seriously proposed, said he, that we take to this country a large and miscellaneous assortment of Asiatic islands and make citizens, with all the rights of the inhabitants of territories of the United States, the large and varied assortment of Asiatics, Mongolians, Malays and negroes who inhabit them. For his part he deemed it inexpedient, unwise and unjust that we should do this thing.

Marriage of Nations. "I do not believe the body of the American people understand the significance of this treaty. I do not believe that some senators who are crying to us to ratify the treaty understand it. The treaty fixes the policy of the government. What may be done afterwards is merely clerical detail. The treaty is a thoroughfare over which 8,000,000 of American citizens will march into this Union. It is a marriage of nations. Henceforth and forever the Filipinos and Americans will be one. I trust yet before the marriage is consummated the spirit of American constitutional liberty will arise and forbid the banns. What is their relations to us that we should seek knight-like with lance in rest to rescue them? We cannot turn them back to Spain. The American people cannot so treat those who were comrades on the field of battle. They have not yet attained the dignity and power of a nation. We cannot recognize the Filipino republic and come away from the islands. We have only to look skyward to see the birds of prey circling about, ready to descend upon those who are weak.

With respect to Cuba the president could withdraw our forces whenever his good sense dictates that he should do so.

Those who apparently were then willing that a vote should be taken, held an opposite view and absolutely refused to agree to a time for taking a vote.

To Senator Gorman was left the task of making the principal statement of the reasons for the opposition. His main objection was based upon the brief time that must intervene between the time of taking the vote on the resolutions and the time fixed for voting on the treaty—3 o'clock next Monday. So long as there had been any possibility of securing a vote in both houses of congress, the members of the senate who opposed the treaty in its present form had made no opposition. But to consent to a vote upon the question at this late hour, after a delay of so many days would create the impression that the opponents of the treaty had been posing for effect and had allowed themselves to be tricked either ignorantly or knowingly.

The friends of the treaty charged that the opposition were afraid to allow an opportunity to vote on the resolutions because of their apprehension that some of the resolutions would be agreed to and the chances of the ratification of the treaty thus improved. This meant, as they regarded it, that they did not want any treaty ratified. The objectors stood firm, however, to the last, refusing to yield.

Adjournment was then had.

Opponents of the treaty claim 33 votes that cannot be shaken, while the treaty supporters still count confidently on ratification.

General Wheeler, Colonels Campbell and Colson and Major Robbins.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The inquiry ordered by the house of representatives as to what members had forfeited their seats by reason of accepting other offices, ended yesterday with a finding by the judiciary committee that Major-General Wheeler, a member from Alabama; Colonel James B. Campbell of Illinois; Colonel David G. Colson of Kentucky; and Major Edward E. Robbins of Pennsylvania, had vacated their seats in the house by accepting commissions in the army. At the same time the committee determined that none of the members of congress serving on civil commissions had thereby vacated their seats in the house.

why not give him the same latitude with reference to the Philippines? Contemplating the 125 years of our nation's history we find but one impediment to progress, and that was found in the effort to introduce the colored race, which was not assimilated with the Anglo-Saxon. This race had been the only fly in our national ointment and the occurrence had been most sad and tragic. Now, when we are happily beginning to readjust ourselves to the changed conditions after the civil war, we are challenged to go forth and lay the heavy hand of sovereignty upon another and a different race.

Declaration of Independence. Mr. Daniel had never expected to be called upon to defend the declaration of independence in this hall, but he felt bound to do so now. In the course of that defence he said the declaration of independence had done more to mold American institutions and to swing back our affairs when they went wrong than any other American utterance.

Mr. Daniel defended the taking and holding of Porto Rico which he held was one of the natural outposts of this country.

Further along he declared it was not a question of hauling down the American flag. That flag was not a fixture in the Philippines. Once the treaty is ratified, however, the American flagstaff would sink to the center of the earth in those islands and the stars as they broke to the breeze would rise until they mingled with the stars of heaven.

Mr. Daniel, after reviewing the kind of people to be found in the Philippines, said:

"There are not alone the Filipinos, but the Negrites, Malays and all the conglomeration of hues and colors. There are people black and white, blue, brown and gray. There are even spotted people and a kind that I never before heard of—striped. At the close of a righteous and glorious war we are to take them in and ordain them with the oil of American citizenship. Not in a thousand years, could we raise the Filipinos to the level of this country's citizenship. At the moment the treaty was ratified the historian would chronicle the beginning of the decline of the greatness of America."

"This nation stands today the foremost nation of the world. Let her tread with sure and steady step along her own highways, respecting master and man. Let her to the temple of expansion today say as He who stood upon the mount said, when the glories of earth were stretched before him: 'Get thee behind me, Satan.'"

TREATY OPPONENTS.

Refuse to Vote Upon Pending Interpretive Resolutions.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The controversy in the senate over the vote upon the various resolutions interpretive of peace treaty took an acute turn late yesterday. The opposition to a vote first came from the friends of the treaty, who held to the theory that it could be ratified without compromise.

Those who apparently were then willing that a vote should be taken, held an opposite view and absolutely refused to agree to a time for taking a vote.

To Senator Gorman was left the task of making the principal statement of the reasons for the opposition. GENERAL N. A. MILES

To Have an Opportunity to Make His Charges Good.

PRESIDENT DETERMINED

To Terminate the Unsatisfactory State of Affairs Respecting Character of Army Beef—If the Commanding General's Charges Fall He May Be Court-martialed.

Washington, Feb. 4.—The purpose of the president to terminate the unsatisfactory state of affairs that has existed for some time as the result of the numerous charges and countercharges and interviews respecting the character of the army beef, by instituting a formal inquiry into these matters and endeavoring to place the responsibility where it belongs, was made known late yesterday. This inquiry will not be undertaken before the commission to investigate the conduct of the war has made its report to the president. The scope of this new inquiry has not been defined, but it certainly will embrace the allegations made by General Miles as to the character of the army supplies, and will involve that officer to the extent that he must make these charges good, and to that degree will be on trial himself in a preliminary manner. Should the charges be found well established a heavy responsibility would be placed upon the packers and persons concerned in the meat inspection, and perhaps others; should they fall unsupported, General Miles may be obliged to answer to a court martial for reflecting upon the character of other officers.

Modes of Procedure. There are two methods by which such an investigation may be conducted according to established military usage. The first is by the appointment of a court of inquiry, and the second by the appointment of what is known as an officer's or inspection board. In the former case, it would be necessary to name some officer who is to be the subject of the investigation. In the latter the board is charged simply to inquire into a state of facts, or alleged facts, without reference to any particular person, for anything of which complaint is made. Their findings may serve as the basis for a court-martial quite as effectively as the findings of a court of inquiry.

It is not possible at present to learn in which direction the president leans, but he has been in conference on the subject with the secretary of war and the attorney general and the matter has been discussed in the cabinet to some extent. As before stated, however, no action is to be taken on either plan until the report of the war investigation commission is submitted.

Up to the close of the day General Miles positively declined to discuss in any manner the events of the day so far as they relate to himself, or to discuss any statements contained in any of the interviews attributed to him. It may be said of these interviews that while it would not do so of necessity, for the matters to be first looked into are those connected with the character of the army beef.

The trust, it is said, will not alter the price of milk at present.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Bradstreet Says There is a Quieting Down of Speculative Interest.

New York, Feb. 4.—Bradstreet's today says a quieting down of speculative interest is noticeable in a number of markets this week without, however, bringing to light any important impairment of the underlying strength of the general business situation.

The important price recessions of the week are those noted in wheat and other cereals, except oats. Immediately instrumental in bringing about this reaction might be mentioned the final government estimate of last year's crop, placing it at 675,000,000 bushels, far in excess of earlier estimates by the same authority.

The advance in wheat checked export trade, but an improvement in this direction is reported at the lower range of values.

Print cloths are at the highest point reached for over a year past, and sympathetic strength in other classes of cottons is noticeable.

An active demand for finished iron products still continues, and steel plates, iron bars, rails, structural and car material have been in active request, with some important advances reported, more particularly at western points.

The strength of the lumber market is a feature, and the scarcity of hard woods is still complained of. Leather is firm on a slight improvement in the tone of the boot and shoe trade.

Spring trade has shown a further advance at a number of markets, and the outlook is regarded as a favorable one.

NOT SATISFIED

Cuban General Thinks Gomez Overstepped His Authority.

Havana, Feb. 4.—Among the Cuban leaders who have given expression to their views on the subject, it is asserted that General Gomez was not authorized to agree to the disbandment of the army without consulting the Cuban assembly and obtaining its permission.

Indeed, when the report arrived that General Gomez had accepted Mr. Porter's proposition on behalf of the president, many doubted it, refusing to believe that he would act in this fashion.

A prominent Cuban said yesterday: "If the news is true the Cuban assembly will have grounds for proceeding against General Gomez. The idea of $8,000,000 as a gift from the United States to the Cuban soldiers is repugnant and wounds the pride of the Cubans."

A number of interviews obtained yesterday with prominent Cuban generals go to show the feeling in the higher military circles. General Mayia Rodriguez, second in command in the Cuban army, said:

"I cannot think that General Gomez would take this resolution regarding a matter of such transcendental importance as the payment and disbandment of the Cuban army without consulting the Cuban assembly. Although I still believe that the United States will fulfill its promise to give Cuba her liberty, I think the Cuban army should continue to aid in preserving order in the island until this promise has been fulfilled, and until certain important matters have been clearly decided such as, for instance, who is to pay the cost of the numerous and unnecessary American army of occupation—Cuba or the United States. General Gomez does not hold the power to disband the army without the authorization of the Cuban assembly and until after consultation with the generals."

WINDOWGLASS MEN

Not a Cent of Money Behind the Reported Combine.

Findlay, O., Feb. 4.—Regarding the reported combine of windowglass manufacturers, F. W. Firmin, president of the Buckeye windowglass factory of this city, which operates a factory at Albany, Ind., says regarding the deal: "Several Pittsburg brokers are attempting to form a syndicate of the plants and then turn it over to capitalists. So far there is not a cent of money behind the plan, and it is hardly probable that it will succeed. As for selling out, most of the Indiana factories are entirely willing to do so whenever a good offer is made for them, because the glass business is at present very vacillating. The natural gas supply in Indiana is also on the wane, which makes the location less desirable."

Two Car Thieves Receive Indeterminate Sentences at Terre Haute.

Terre Haute, Ind., Feb. 4.—William Long and Albert Watkins, arrested Thursday night for robbing a Big Four freight car, were yesterday sentenced on pleas of guilty under the indeterminate sentence law. Long was released from prison only a few months ago. Part of the plunder was found in their house. A large quantity of goods stolen in Vincennes was also found there. The men are half brothers. Joseph Johnson, a brother-in-law, was arrested, but he was released, as it could only be shown that he was wearing a suit of stolen clothing that had been given to him. When Long was asked by the court if he had anything to say, he replied: "I did it with a clear conscience, judge."

She found her husband alive and well. He laughed at her fears and sent her back to Ohio to complete her visit. The day she arrived in North Baltimore the neighbors found Nelson Winship lying dead on the floor of his kitchen. He had been suddenly seized with an attack of apoplexy while trying to lace his shoe.

A YOUNG MOTHER

flushed with perfect health and strength, said, as she exhibited with pride her baby, "I must confess that my present health and the almost phenomenal development and good health of baby are due to the use of Pabst Malt Extract. The "Best" Tonic. The necessity of feeding the child was such a tax on me at first that I became nervous, weak and exhausted. "Best" Tonic was recommended. I took it and began to build at once. Baby began to show the effects within a week. I continued its use for months, until I went out into the country and neglected to take my tonic with me. I lost fifteen pounds in six weeks, and could scarcely feed baby. Since returning, some three weeks ago, I have again been taking "Best" Tonic. I have gained six pounds and the little one is again progressing. Just think, he is nineteen months old, weighs 22 pounds, and I have not weakened him yet.

Let every mother apply this to her own experience and at least give the "Best" Tonic a trial, if not for her own sake, for that of her child. Let her provide for baby as nature says every mother should.

To produce magnificent children was a supreme aim among the Greeks, those lovers of perfection in those rigid athletic exercises which aggrandized the glory of the body. For without a perfect body how can a babe at once begin to fight the battle of existence with conquering energy, or how derive those elements of hardiness, pure blood, calm nerves and bright mind, if the mother is not prepared, helped and insured against too great weakness, given the right sustenance, and kept in a position of ease, happy thought, pleasing sensations and good sound slumber? Hundreds of children are puny, slow, with nervous supine motions and unintelligent countenances, because the mother was forced to put all her energies into the power to bear them, without the strength besides to give them the vital flow of sturdy health. Habitual use of Pabst Malt Extract, The "Best" Tonic, makes rich and pure blood, strengthens the bones and muscles, and adds to the development of the perfect form, a glowing vitality in the mother, which aids her not only to bear, but build.

I have seen very good results from the prolonged use of your Malt Extract. The "Best" Tonic, and I find the preparation very beneficial, especially for nursing women.

DR. F. BECKER-LAURICH, New York, N. Y.

I find Pabst Malt Extract a very good tonic, and have ordered several of my patients to get a case of it. I shall keep ordering it for my patients as long as I find it benefits them as much as it has.

P. J. HASTINGS, M. D. Boston, Mass.

My wife has begun to take Pabst Malt Extract, and it seems to have benefited her already, though she has not taken enough yet to expect any great improvement. She has taken a great deal of malt and thinks that, on the whole, Pabst's is the best in reality as well as in name. I shall surely prescribe The "Best" Tonic in cases where a malt extract is indicated.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 4, 1899.

FR. WAYNE republicans are making extensive preparations for the State Lincoln League meeting there February 11.

There is no doubt that the legislature will pass a county and township reform bill in some form. Careful attention should be given to its details so that no injustice is done to anyone concerned and that the interests of the people are safeguarded at every point.

AFTER the tilt in the house yesterday and the vote to call for a report of the educational committee on the bill to reorganize the state board of education the state school lobby may be expected to show up. They will interfere with the will of the people all they can.

The house of representatives did the proper thing when it passed Mr. Robert's bill to reduce the mileage of members of the legislature to the actual amount expended for one round trip ticket to Indianapolis. The allowance under the present law is twenty-five cents per mile.

SENATOR LAMBERT has won a victory in the senate in getting his bill to locate a hospital for the incurable insane at Columbus, advanced to engrossment. If the bill is passed and a new institution should be built, and we believe that should be the result, the new institution should be located in this part of the state, and we know of no better place for it than Columbus unless it be Seymour.

DURING the past few days there have been some revelations in Seymour that have brought anxiety and mistrust into a number of homes. Not that any new conditions have been brought about, but that existing conditions have been made known to those who were to have been kept ignorant of the real facts. There is already apparent cautiousness as well as more or less explaining.

SEYMOUR HOSPITALITY

Appreciated by R. W. Brown, One of the Visiting Elks.

The letter below from Mr. "Bob" Brown, managing editor of the Louisville Times, is evidence of the hospitality extended to the visiting Elks here this week.

LOUISVILLE, KY., FEB. 3rd, '99.

Mr. W. L. JOHNSON,

Seymour, Ind.

DEAR BROTHER—Please do me the kindness to convey to the royal fellows of No. 462 expressions of my highest appreciation of their lavish hospitality it was my good fortune to enjoy as one of the guests when your lodge was so auspiciously organized. Nothing was omitted that could have contributed to the joy and success of that delightful occasion. My best wishes are yours and theirs for an overflowing measure of prosperity and the greatest happiness, both as men and brother Elks.

Fraternally,

R. W. BROWN.

The Boiler Inspection Bill.

EDITORS REPUBLICAN: The following clipping from the Richmond Palladium, published in the Indianapolis Journal is suggestive to many manufacturers:

"There seems to be a disposition on the part of some members of the legislature to saddle them with unnecessary burdens. All such burdens directly or indirectly react on their employees. For if the manufacturer's reasonable profits are consumed by taxes of various kinds he will either have to cut wages or shut down his factory. In either case the working man would be the sufferer. The boiler inspection bill now before the legislature belongs to the class of burdens alluded to."

This boiler inspection bill, or a similar one, annoyed the General Assembly two years ago a great deal. It provides that only cities of 5,000 population shall be affected. In such cities nearly every steam plant carries boiler insurance and pays the insurance companies under their contract for inspecting their boilers. Under the proposed law the steam plants in the country and in small towns, such as saw mills, threshing engines, etc., where most accidents occur, are exempt from inspection. In other words the law is only to appear to those plants where the most competent men are in charge and inspection by the insurance companies is frequent. Seymour, Feb. 4. MANUFACTURER.

In Honor of Miss Ebner.

The Matinee Euchre Club was highly entertained by Mrs. W. P. Rooney Friday afternoon. Miss Teresa Ebner, of Vincennes, was the guest of honor. She also carried away first honors. Mrs. Keating second prize, Mrs. Ed Kernan, the booby prize. The hostess received thanks of the club for the royal manner in which they were entertained.

Ditch Legislation.

Concerning our present ditch law a farmer said to the REPUBLICAN today: "Of late years a great many public ditches have been constructed under the existing legislation on that kind of work. The law as it now is works fairly satisfactorily. But the law under which ditches are cleaned and kept in repair has proved very unsatisfactory. That would be obviated, however, if the General Assembly would pass House Bill No. 282 Under such a law the ditches would be kept clean at a great deal less expense."

Music Shops on Ocean Liners.

From a single venture five years ago small shops for the sale of musical instruments have become a regular thing on the large liners that sail from England to India, Australia and the colonies.

From the beginning the music shop was quite a success. Perhaps most of its trade runs in the direction of cheap banjos, which are bought by almost every man on board before the voyage as a means of passing the time.

Valuable violins are often more easily disposed of at sea than on shore, while even pianos meet with at least four or five customers each voyage, many people disposing of their own instruments before starting and being readily persuaded into buying others to avoid the middleman on landing.

The seaboard music shop agent usually travels first class, and as he is generally possessed of gentlemanly manners and glib tongue he meets with better opportunities for pushing his wares than he would get under ordinary circumstances.—London Globe.

After-Effects of the GRIP

Grip is a treacherous disease. You think it is cured and the slightest cold brings on a relapse.

Its victims are always left in a weakened condition—blood impure and impoverished; nerves shattered. Pneumonia, heart disease and nervous prostration are often the result.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People will drive every trace of the poisonous germs from the system, build up and enrich the blood and strengthen the nerves. A trial will prove this. Read the evidence:

When the grip last visited this section Herman H. Eyer, of 811 W. Main St., Jefferson, Mo., a well known contractor and builder, was one of the victims, and he has since been troubled with the after-effects of the disease. A year ago his health began to fail and he was obliged to discontinue work. That he lives to-day is almost a miracle. He says:

"I was troubled with shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart and a general debility. My back also pained me severely."

"I tried one doctor after another and numerous remedies suggested by my friends, but without apparent benefit, and began to give up hope. Then I saw Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People extolled in a St. Louis paper and after investigation, decided to give them a trial."

"After using the first box I felt wonderfully relieved and was satisfied that the pills were putting me on the road to recovery. I bought two more boxes and continued taking them."

"After taking four boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People I am restored to good health. I feel like a new man, and having the will and energy of my former days returned, I am capable of transacting my business with increased ambition."

"Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are a wonderful medicine and any one suffering from the after-effects of the grip will find that these pills are the specific."

Mr. Eyer will gladly answer any inquiry regarding this if stamp is enclosed. From Cole County Democrat, Jefferson City, Mo.

THE MAKING OF POISON.

A Factory Where the Most Deadly Drugs Are Prepared.

In London is a strange establishment, behind a wilderness of warehouses and tumbledown tenements, in a remote suburb. Its massive gates are locked and jealously guarded. A visitor must not only be careful where he steps and refrain from touching, he must also breathe with great caution. One of the terrible poisons manufactured here is pure anhydrous acid, a drug seldom seen outside a chemical laboratory. This is the deadliest of all known poisons. The discoverer was stricken dead from inhaling its fumes. From 3 to 5 per cent of this chemical added to 95 or 97 parts of water makes prussic acid. This diluted poison causes instant death, even when taken in minute quantities.

Next to anhydrous acid, the worst poison they make is cyanide of potassium. Last year they turned out over 1,000 tons of it. Five grains being a fatal dose, the annual output would be sufficient to kill 2,500,000 people. In the workshop, where men are gathered around a witch's caldron containing over a hundred weight of molten cyanide, a strange picture is presented. The seething mass of white hot liquid poison, with the lambent play of the furnace fires, the phantom faces of the workmen, enveloped in an uncanny looking glass mask, peering into the heart of the dreadful mixture through the thick atmosphere, are a terrible sight. In another room, where are tons of the finished product, looking like crystallized sugar, "good enough to eat," one man is never allowed alone. For some inexplicable reason it exercises a strange fascination for the men who inhale its fumes. They are haunted by a desire to eat it. But, knowing that satisfying the craving means instant death, most, but not all, are able to resist it. Aside from this fascination its manufacture is not considered unhealthy. The same cannot be said of corrosive sublimate. Its fumes are deadly.—Chicago Inter Ocean.

Priceless Pain

"If a price can be placed on pain, 'Mother's Friend' is worth its weight in gold as an alleviator. My wife suffered more in ten minutes with either of her other two children than she did at together with her last, having previously used four bottles of 'Mother's Friend.' It is a blessing to any one expecting to become a mother," says a customer.

Thus writes Henderson Dale, Druggist, of Carmi, Ill., to the Bradfield Regulator Company, of Atlanta, Ga., the proprietors and manufacturers of "Mother's Friend." This successful remedy is not one of the many internal medicines advertised to do unreasonable things, but a scientifically prepared liniment especially effective in adding strength and elasticity to those parts of woman's organism which bear the severest strains of childbirth.

The liniment may be used at any and all times during pregnancy up to the very hour of confinement. The earlier it is begun, and the longer used, the more perfect will be the result, but it has been used during the last month only with great benefit and success.

It not only shortens labor and lessens the pain attending it, but greatly diminishes the danger to life of both mother and child, and leaves the mother in a condition more favorable to speedy recovery.

"Mother's Friend" is sold by druggists at $1.00, or sent by express on receipt of price.

RAILROAD RUMBLINGS.

Fireman Burns Railing who has been laying off for eleven weeks with a broken ankle, hopes to resume his run in another week.

Engineer Thomas Simon pulled eighteen cars loaded with government freight from Washington to Seymour in three hours and thirty-five minutes.

On the Pennsylvania lines almost daily fireman are being examined and if incompetent, promoted to engineers. On some divisions of the Pennsylvania twice as many train men are in service as two years ago.

The belief prevails that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will consolidate the Panhandle and the Vandalia lines, which, when accomplished, will give a direct line from New York to St. Louis 1,063 miles long, and with the other affiliated lines and lines would give the Pennsylvania a much greater prestige than it has ever enjoyed.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

LaGrippe is Contagious.

Atmosphere Impregnated with Germs

Disease Proved Beyond Question to be Infectious—Rapidly Conquering the Country.

LaGrippe is a contagious disease. Its specific germ has been positively identified, and it is transmitted from person to person either by direct contact or by inhaling the germs while they float in the air. It is a dangerous disease, lowering the vitality and wasting the reserve power so that pneumonia, heart disease, nervous prostration and insanity find easy victims. No specific is known that will kill the grip germ, but it may be driven out and its effects overcome by the prompt use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine.

"La Grippe left my nervous system so racked and shattered that I could not sleep and for two months was under the influence of narcotics. Physicians and friends gave me up to die; but in two days after I commenced taking Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine I began to improve, and in a month's time I was entirely cured. It is the greatest health restorer on earth."

BATTLE

Between Americans and Filipino Troops at Santa Mesa.

ENEMY IS DEFEATED

Two Attacks Last For More Than an Hour.

FILIPINOS CONCENTRATED

At Three Points and Opened With a Hot Fire All Along Their Line With Small Arms and Siege Guns. Americans Responded With Terrible Fire and the Utah Light Artillery Succeeded in Silencing the Native Batteries—United States Cruisers Charleston and Concord in the Engagement as Was the Monadnock. American Loss 20 Killed and 125 Wounded—Attempts to Assassinate United States Officers.

Manila, Feb. 6.—The long-expected rupture between the Americans and the Filipinos has come at last. The former are now engaged in solving the Philippine problem with the utmost expedition possible.

The clash came at 8:40 Saturday evening when three daring Filipinos darted past the Nebraska regiment's pickets at Santa Mesa, but retired when challenged. They repeated the experiment without drawing the sentry's fire. But the third time Corporal Greely challenged the Filipinos and then fired, killing one of them and wounding another.

Almost immediately afterwards the Filipinos, from Calvoan to Santa Mesa, commenced a fusillade which was ineffectual.

The Nebraska, Montana and North Dakota outposts replied vigorously and held their ground until reinforcements arrived. The Filipinos in the meantime concentrated at three points, Calvoan, Gagalangin and Santa Mesa.

At about 1 o'clock the Filipinos opened a hot fire from all three places simultaneously. This was supplemented by the fire of two siege guns at Balik-Balik, and by advancing their skirmishers at Pao and Pandacan.

The American responded with a terrific fire, but owing to the darkness they were unable to determine its effect. The Utah light artillery finally succeeded in silencing the native battery. The third artillery also did good work on the extreme left.

The engagement lasted over an hour. The United States cruiser Charleston and the gunboat Concord, stationed off Malabona, opened fire from their secondary batteries on the Filipinos' position at Calvoan and kept it up vigorously.

At 2:46 there was another fusillade along the entire line, and the United States seagoing double decked monitor Monadnock opened fire on the enemy from off Malate. With daylight the Americans advanced.

The California and Washington regiments made a splendid charge and drove the Filipinos from the villages of Pao and Santa Mesa.

The Nebraska regiment also distinguished itself, capturing several prisoners and one howitzer and a very strong position at the reservoir, which is connected with the waterworks.

The Kansas and Dakota regiments compelled the enemy's right flank to retire to Calvoan.

There was intermittent firing at various points all day long.

The losses of the Filipinos cannot be estimated at present, but they are known to be considerable.

The American losses are estimated at 20 men killed and 125 wounded.

The Ygorates, armed with bows and arrows, made a very determined stand in the face of a hot artillery fire and left many men dead on the field.

Several attempts were made in this city Saturday evening to assassinate American officers.

ORDERS TO OTIS

To Follow Up His Victory and Crush the Insurgents.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—A special to the Times-Herald from Washington says: Instructions will be sent to Major General Otis today directing him to follow up his victory over the insurgents and to crush the power of Aguinaldo in the Philippines.

This was the decision reached at an important cabinet meeting held in the white house last night, attended by the president, Secretary Hay, Secretary Alger, Attorney General Griggs and Adjutant General Corbin.

It was further decided, now that Aguinaldo has thrown down the gauntlet, that Manila shall be taken and the islands of the archipelago occupied as rapidly as possible and to the extent that General Otis' forces will permit.

NEWS AT WASHINGTON.

Administration Shocked Though Apprehensive of the Ugly Situation.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Admiral Dewey today cabled the navy department that hostilities had begun between the American army and naval forces in and about Manila and the Philippine insurgents.

The insurgents, he said, had been the aggressors and had been repulsed.

The news came like a shock, for the administration, though apprised that an ugly situation prevailed in the Philippines, had clung steadily to a hope that by tact and patience actual fighting might be averted, and even those public men, who felt that hostilities would follow should the treaty be ratified and the United States attempt to occupy the islands, believed that Aguinaldo would not force the fighting when the treaty of peace was in its most critical stage.

Some senatorial opponents of ratification of the treaty adhere to their position, but the general opinion in Washington is that the news from Manila insures the ratification of the treaty.

The news of the beginning of another war came from Admiral Dewey.

It seems to be Dewey's fortune always to be able to report favorable news, and like all of his messages that have gone before this cablegram told of the success of the American forces and in the action.

It was with great regret, however, that the administration learned that the insurgents had forced the issue. It had hoped all along that they could be brought to see the advantages of placing their trust in the American people, and relying upon the president to deal justly with them.

The administration argued that with the Philippine commission fairly on the sea enroute for Manila, bringing with them messages from the president, and with the peace treaty still unacted on it was not to be credited that they would refuse to wait to learn the purposes of the American government, but would precipitate the long impending conflict.

Besides his soldiers General Otis has in Manila bay, commanding the city a veritable rock of Gibraltar in Dewey's fleet. With the vessels he now has and those about to join him, Dewey will have 21 ships of various types. Of full fledged war ships he now has nine as follows: The flagship Olympia, the Boston, Baltimore, Charleston, Concord, Monadnock, Monterey, Petrel and the Buffalo. He also has three armed supply ships which are just as effective as a warship, almost, in attacking troops outside of fortifications and in maintaining the blockade.

No one knows the real strength of the insurgents opposed to General Otis. The accounts of their numbers are conflicting and none of them comes from reliable sources. Still, the best belief of the authorities at the war department is that they number about 30,000 men, but they are not comparable to the American forces in personnel, discipline or quality of arms. It is known that they have some Mauser's, some Remington's and a variety of other fire arms, and it is suspected that they have been quite plentifully supplied with ammunition from outside sources. Taken as a whole this armament is decidedly inferior to that of the American troops.

Their strong point is their knowledge of the country and a certain fanatical bravery in onslaught that would be formidable to a volunteer force not well-trained to stand fire. Like the Cubans, they rely too much on a sword-like weapon corresponding to the machete, a weapon of little value against long-range rifles.

AGUINALDO'S Representative in London Gives His Views.

London, Feb. 6.—A representative of the press saw the London representative of Aguinaldo last evening. He did not express surprise at the news from the Philippine islands, but declared that the Filipinos at Manila were suspicious of the attitude of the United States and had formed the opinion that it was better to fight before the Americans were reinforced.

The representative added that Mabini, the head of the Filipino cabinet, and his colleagues, were convinced that if the Americans were beaten now public opinion in the United States would "insist upon the maintenance of Filipino independence."

Dewey's Dispatch.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The following message was received from Admiral Dewey yesterday: To the Secretary of the Navy, Washington: Insurgents here inaugurated general engagement Saturday night, which was continued today. The American army and navy is generally successful. Insurgents have been driven back and our line advanced. No casualties to navy.

Otis' Dispatch.

Washington, Feb. 6.—The following telegram from General Otis was received at the war department last night: MANILA, Feb. 5: Adjutant General, Washington: Have established our permanent lines well out and have driven off the insurgents. The troops have conducted themselves with great heroism. The country about Manila is peaceful and the city perfectly quiet.

Fleeing the Country.

New York, Feb. 6.—A dispatch to the Herald from Albany, N. Y., says that Agoncillo, representative of the Filipino junta in this country, passed through that city last night enroute for Canada. According to information received by the correspondent of the Herald the United States government has no intention of arresting Agoncillo and will allow him to proceed across the Canadian line.

Died in Porto Rico.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Major-General Henry has informed the war department from San Juan, Porto Rico, that Acting Hospital Steward Bert G. Bark is dead of typhoid fever.

SENOR CARBONELL'S

Dismissal Causes the Porto Rican Cabinet to Resign.

San Juan de Porto Rico, Feb. 6.—The insular cabinet has tendered its resignation to Governor General Henry, because, after dismissing Senator Carbonell, General Henry ordered General Eaton to take charge of the department of public instruction and instructed Major Pierce to take charge of the department of public works. Both these departments belong to the interior department.

The cabinet demands the immediate appointment of a successor to Senator Carbonell, and that natives be appointed in place of General Eaton and Major Pierce in accordance with previous enunciation of the policy of General Henry and the colonial commission that no Americans are to hold office here.

TORONTO CADETS

Presented with American Flag by Chicago British-Americans.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Nearly sixty uniformed public school cadets of Toronto, Ont., who are on their way to Tampa, Fla., to attend the convention of naval and military representatives of various states of the Union, arrived in Chicago yesterday. The cadets attended services at the Third Presbyterian church in a body. Most of the afternoon was spent in sightseeing. The cadets were presented with a large silk American flag by the British-American citizens of Chicago at the First regiment armory last night. They left at 9 p. m. for St. Louis over the Illinois Central road.

SPANISH PRISONERS

Aguinaldo Offers to Release Them For $500,000 and Other Considerations.

Madrid, Feb. 6.—General Rios, commanding the Spanish troops in the Philippines, cables that Aguinaldo offers to release the Spanish prisoners on the payment of $500,000 and the handing over to him of the cannon, rifles and 3,000,000 cartridges belonging to the Spaniards. The government here replied that it could not accept this transaction as it would be equivalent to indirect protection of the insurgents, which would be a breach of the Spanish engagements with the United States. Aguinaldo, it appears, still retains the civil prisoners and the monks.

CEREAL TRUST

Plans Being Rapidly Carried Out. Capital, $23,000,000.

Cleveland, Feb. 6.—The promoters of the new cereal trust announce that their plans are rapidly being carried out and that the enterprise will be a success. The company will have a capital of $5,000,000 preferred and $18,000,000 common stock. It is said that control has been secured of every plant but one which manufactures breakfast food. The various companies now have a business of enormous proportions. Their combined output is 6,600 barrels a day or 2,000,000 barrels a year.

Grover Cleveland and Friends.

New York, Feb. 6.—Grover Cleveland, ex-president of the United States, and 23 other citizens, have addressed a petition to the senate asking that the treaty of peace be not ratified.

Carlos Will Take the Field.

London, Feb. 6.—Paris correspondent to the Graphic says Don Carlos will take the field as soon as the treaty is ratified.

Haywood Dead.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Emmett Haywood, who Saturday shot and killed his wife after a quarrel and then shot himself in the head, died of his injuries yesterday.

THE GRIP CURE THAT DOES CURE.

COL. SEXTON DEAD

Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic Passes Away.

THE CAUSE OF HIS DEATH

Was an Attack of Grip Complicated With Kidney Trouble—Was a Member of the Commission to Investigate the War—Body Taken to Chicago For Burial.

Washington, Feb. 6.—Colonel James A. Sexton, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic and a member of the war investigating commission, died yesterday at Garfield hospital from complications resulting primarily from an attack of the grip.

Colonel Sexton had been ill about a month, first with grip and kidney troubles and later with meningitis of the brain. His system failed to respond to medical treatment and for several weeks his recovery was hardly expected.

When he first became sick Colonel Sexton was living at the Arlington hotel, but about two weeks ago he was removed to the Garfield hospital, where he died. Mrs. Sexton and her son William were with the colonel at the time of his death.

Last night the body was put aboard the 7:30 train on the Pennsylvania railroad and will be taken to Chicago. There were no funeral services in this city, but six members of the Grand Army acted as pallbearers both when the body was removed from the hospital and when aboard the train. At Chicago F. W. Spenk, quartermaster of the Grand Army; H. P. Thompson, assistant adjutant general, and W. L. Smith of the Loyal Legion will have charge of the military funeral arrangements.

Commander Arthur Hendricks of the department of the Potomac, G. A. R., yesterday issued a special order commemorative of Colonel Sexton. Many floral tributes were received by the family, including tributes from the war investigating commission and President McKinley, who sent a beautiful wreath.

Colonel James A. Sexton was born on January 9, 1844. He enlisted as a private in the Nineteenth Illinois Volunteers April 19, 1861, and after three months' service enlisted in the Sixty-seventh Illinois, being commissioned as first lieutenant of company E. He was subsequently transferred to the Seventy-second Illinois and was made captain of company D. He served in Ransom's brigade, McArthur's division of the Seventeenth Army Corps, Army of the Tennessee, and participated in nearly all its campaigns, sieges and battles. He was commander of the regiment in the battles of Columbia, Duck River, Spring Hill, Franklin and Nashville. In 1865 he was assigned to duty on the staff of Major General A. J. Smith, commander of the Eighteenth Army Corps, and remained with Smith until the close of the war, being honorably discharged in August, 1865.

He was appointed postmaster of Chicago by President Harrison in 1889 and was retained by President Cleveland until he resigned Jan. 11, 1895.

Colonel Sexton was an active worker in the Grand Army of the Republic, the military order of the Loyal Legion and other soldier and army societies. He was past commander of the Department of Illinois, G. A. R., and had been a presidential elector. At the last meeting of the G. A. R. he was elected commander-in-chief.

May Succeed Sexton.

Cincinnati, Feb. 6.—Captain W. C. Johnson, senior vice-commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., is the head of the firm of Johnson Bros.' Hardware company of this city. Under the constitution he becomes the acting commander-in-chief until the vacancy is filled. The national council of administration, consisting of 45 members, one from each state department, has full power for filling all vacancies. This body may elect Captain Johnson or any other member of the order. While it is thought that Captain Johnson will succeed Colonel Sexton, yet there is no certainty on that matter until the national council of administration meets.

Chicago Postal Employees.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—Postmaster Gordon yesterday ordered all the postal stations in Chicago to display flags at half mast until after the funeral of Colonel James A. Sexton, who died in Washington yesterday morning. A meeting of the Chicago letter carriers was held and elaborate arrangements made for taking part in Colonel Sexton's funeral.

SKIFF LADEN

With Dynamite Floating Down the Ohio River.

Wheeling, W. Va., Feb. 6.—Telegrams yesterday from Mingo Junction state that a skiff loaded with nitro-glycerine had broken away from the Acme Torpedo Co.'s wharf, and was coming down the river with the ice. A close watch has been maintained here, but the skiff has not been sighted. All boats are warned of the danger of contact with the skiff, which will be a menace to navigation until it is located.

Shot Himself.

Philadelphia, Feb. 6.—Maurice E. Fagan, aged 55 years, formerly a well known lawyer of this city, but lately of Collingwood, N. J., committed suicide in Laurel Hill cemetery by shooting himself through the head. He had been suffering from rheumatism for some time.

Another Dreyfus.

Nancy, France, Feb. 6.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a retired lieutenant of infantry on the charge of communicating military documents to a foreign power.

SPOILED BEEF

Among the Army Rations Issued to Destitute in Havana.

Havana, Feb. 6.—Inspector General Breckinridge has discovered among the army rations issued to the destitute in Havana hundreds of cases of spoiled beef and it is believed there are others, just how many only the inspection can determine. The marks on the cans show "Chicago, July, 1898." They were bought by Captain Oskaloosa M. Smith, of the subsistence department from Armour & Libby, McNeill & Libby and were sent to Porto Rico.

In due time they were landed at Regla, a suburb of Havana, and last week they were issued to Captain Noel Gaines, who is in charge of the relief work here. Saturday some of the cans were given to the destitute who refused to use the contents. Several cases were then broken open and last night the air at La Punta park, one of the distributing stations, left no doubt as to the presence of the offensive "supplies."

Lieutenant Colonel Smith, chief commissary in Cuba, has written to General Breckinridge to inquire why he is here "interfering with the commissary business." General Breckinridge has ignored the letter, but has written to General Brooke that he is in Havana under instructions from the war department.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT

Over News From Manila at Madrid. Sympathies With Aguinaldo.

Madrid, Feb. 6.—Intense excitement was caused here by the receipt last evening of the following official dispatch from General Rios, the Spanish commander in the Philippines:

"The insurgents have violently attacked and captured almost the whole of the interior American line. The Americans offered a vigorous defense at the exterior barriers, using their artillery as well as their squadrons.

"The warships destroyed and burned Caloacan, Pao and several towns in the neighborhood. Both sides suffered materially. Very sharp fighting continues. The Spanish troops have been confined to quarters, but a sergeant has been wounded by a stray bullet."

The popular sympathies here are on the side of Aguinaldo, but thinking people are anxious regarding the consequences of the fighting, especially on account of the Spanish prisoners still in the hands of the insurgents.

UNPOPULAR ORDER

General Brook Reduces Salaries of Santiago Officials.

Santiago de Cuba, Feb. 6.—An order received here yesterday from Havana has not tended to relieve the situation or to reconcile the people to being ruled from a distance. Under its terms a deduction of 20 per cent is to be made in the case of all salaries exceeding $600 per annum. This is really an old Spanish tax, always exceedingly obnoxious and only used as an extreme war measure. It does not touch the laboring class, but strikes those who have most influence over the working people, the mayor, chiefs of gendarmerie, and judges in the province.

These officials bitterly protest against the injustice of this deduction for General Leonard Wood, military governor of the department of Santiago when reorganizing their offices, reduced the salaries paid under the Spanish regime quite 30 per cent on the average, and 50 per cent in some instances.

THREE VICTIMS

Claimed by Fire in the Burning of a Boardinghouse.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 6.—Mrs. Eva Withey, Miss Helen Rose and J. C. Hall lost their lives in the burning of a boardinghouse here Saturday. When the fire broke out the house contained 18 boarders, nearly all of whom were asleep. Mrs. Withey, after arousing the boarders and getting her four children out, went back into the house to assist J. C. Hall, an old man of about 80 years, who occupied a room on the second floor. She was not seen afterward until her charred body was removed from the ruins. Mrs. Eva Withey was well known throughout the state, having been state president of the Daughters of Rebekah. Miss Helen Rose was sister of Mrs. McCreary, wife of the proprietor of the St. Nicholas hotel. J. C. Hall was a retired merchant. The origin of the fire is supposed to be a defective flue. The loss is probably $10,000, partially insured.

LITTLE CHANGE

In the Situation in Storm Ridden Colorado.

Denver, Feb. 6.—The conditions in storm ridden Colorado are but little changed from those of the past 10 days. The Rio Grande and Colorado Midland roads are still snowbound between Glenwood Springs and Leadville, but the officials say they will be running trains through to Denver from the west by evening. The South Park is slowly getting its tracks clear and the Midland terminal is now running trains to Cripple Creek. It is feared that the loss to cattle and sheep throughout the west on account of the fearful wintery weather will run into the thousands of dollars.

Town Almost Destroyed.

Cartersville, Ga., Feb. 6.—The town of Stilwell, nine miles from here, was nearly wiped off the earth yesterday by a cyclone. No lives were lost, but several people were injured. The Methodist church, a new structure, was completely demolished and about a dozen families made homeless. In almost every case the buildings were torn into fragments and scattered for some distance and the wonder is that there were not a number of lives lost.

Another Dreyfus.

Nancy, France, Feb. 6.—A warrant has been issued for the arrest of a retired lieutenant of infantry on the charge of communicating military documents to a foreign power.

LINCOLN'S MOTHER.

Monument Soon to Be Erected Over Her Last Resting Place.

Jeffersonville, Ind., Feb. 6.—What is now receiving much attention here is the last resting place in Spencer county, of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, mother of Abraham Lincoln. The spot, which has so long been neglected, yet not forgotten, is soon to have a handsome monument. This project is to be carried into effect by a number of veterans of the civil war, among whom are the members of the old Second Iowa brigade, the Fourth, Fifth and Sixteenth Illinois and the Twenty-sixth and Fifty-third Indiana.

The grave of Mrs. Lincoln is located near what is known as Lincoln Junction, which is the terminal of the Rockport and Cannelton branch of the Airline. There are no traces left of the old cabin in which Lincoln spent 12 years of his early life, and in which his mother died. Nancy Hanks Lincoln was known to the early settlers as a true type of the pioneer women who suffered so many hardships in connection with the men who hazed the road for civilization through the forests of the great west.

ROBY TRACK

And Poolroom Soon to Be a Thing of the Past.

Chicago, Feb. 6.—The Roby (Ind.) racetrack and poolroom, the scene of many famous races and prizefights and which has given so much trouble to the Indiana authorities will, it is said, soon be a thing of the past. Negotiations have been practically concluded for the lease of the sight of the poolroom and part of the quarterstretch of the track to a syndicate headed by Browning Nichols of Rochester, Minn., and a large bicycle factory will be erected on the ground. The work of demolishing the clubhouse will begin at once.

The senate votes on the treaty today.

All the world admires the fighting qualities of Admiral Dewey.

ADMIRAL DEWEY never shoots amiss. He pours his shot into the enemy every time.

The office of state boiler inspector and his train of deputies would furnish fat jobs for somebody, but rather expensive to the state and the legislature will doubtless see that the bill is defeated.

The most important thing before the legislature this year is the matter of county and township reform. There is no question but that some form of bill will be passed for a change in their government.

REPRESENTATIVE KIRKPATRICK's bill which would give local authorities the right to levy a tax to establish free lecture courses will probably not have very serious consideration and it ought not to have. We do not wonder that Mr. Kirkpatrick admits that it was introduced by request and that he is not its author.

GROVER CLEVELAND is one of the twenty-four whole names are attached to a petition to the senate to reject the peace treaty. But the more Grover's foreign policy is studied the less weight will his opinion have on that subject. His flirtations with Queen Lil established his greatness as a statesman and diplomat.

AGUIBALDO's history indicates that he has been susceptible to the influence of money, and his action seems largely directed toward securing from Uncle Sam the same kind of pecuniary treatment that he received from Spain. He will find however that he is dealing with a different class of people now that the break with our troops has actually come at Manila.

The bills to create a state supervising architect and a state bacteriologist with a workshop in the state house should be looked on as a setback by the legislature. It would only increase the number of salaries to be drawn, and the state would not receive any suitable return for the expenditure of the money, if we may judge from the experience of the United States government in the matter of supervising architects.

GENERAL Miles should be given ample opportunity to prove his charges before a board of inquiry, and if he fails, his future treatment could then be determined. What the people want to know is the truth about the beef contracts. If had beef been furnished to the army, the parties who are responsible for it should be made to suffer for the crime. If General Miles has been making his charges for personal effect the reaction will be against him decidedly and the people will quickly decide the matter when they learn the truth.

In their state platforms both democrats and republicans put themselves on record as favoring reform in county and township government. Back of these pledges was the will of the people, who know the need of better business methods in caring for public business. Members of the legislature can not consistently line themselves up against the will of the people, neither can they consistently ignore the declarations of their party platforms. The measures now before the legislature looking towards this reform should be considered in a business like way and if found wrong in certain particulars, amend them. Make them as near perfect as possible and then pass them. Any other course would be representative of the will of the people.

La Grippe is surely contagious. Dr. Miles' Astorine Nerve is a sure preventive.

The compulsory school law now in force is said to have added about $2,000 pupils to the public schools of the state.

This session of the legislature is half over, and the work yet to do can be disposed of in good shape if the time is properly used.

But few men employed on a $5,000 salary can find so much time to devote to the business of the "third house" as the presidents of our state educational institutions. They are about as regular at the capital as the representatives chosen by the people and seem to think their responsibilities are as great.

MELTED SNOW POWER.

Swiss Towns That Utilize the Mountain Streams.

Besides a considerable number of large water power installations Switzerland is full of small power plants, nearly every town in that land of mountains and waterfalls being well supplied with power from the "white coal," as the melting snow on the mountain sides has well been called. When there are no large streams, many small ones are impounded and collected in reservoirs on the hillsides, and it is rare to find a place of any size which is not well lighted by the power of some mountain stream.

At Montreux the electric tramway gets its power in this way, and from the old Roman town of Vevey to the medieval castle of Chillon one may ride in a trolley car propelled by the power of an insignificant little stream which may or may not be noticed when climbing up the hillsides just above.

The capabilities of this general utilization of natural power are beginning to be understood everywhere, and, with the appreciation of the possibilities of the best methods of long distance transmission, the development of many mountain streams must surely come. There are innumerable streams, which, while very small, are yet very high, and these can with comparatively little difficulty be impounded and carried down many hundreds of feet, thus making up for their lack of volume by the great pressure readily obtainable, and, either by the use of electricity or compressed air, the power may be transmitted to many points of application with but little loss.—Cassier's Magazine.

MYSTIFYING A CONDUCTOR.

The Determined Woman Wanted Him to Find Her Nephew.

She had a look of determination in her face as she stood on the corner of Main and Court streets in Auburn and signaled for an electric car.

The car stopped and the woman advanced to the steps.

"Where do you go?" said she.

"Figure 8," said the conductor.

"2h!"

"Figure 8."

"At what?" said she. "Who said anything about eatin? Be you goin past my nephew James Strout's house?"

"Dunno," said the conductor. "All aboard."

"You hol' on, young man," said the woman. "Don't you get excited. Don't you know Jim Strout? He lives on Rural avenue, and he's expectin me today."

"We go College street," said the conductor.

In the meantime the motorman was stamping on the gong and passengers were getting interested.

"All aboard," was the courteous suggestion of the conductor. "If you are going with me, madam, get aboard. We don't keep a directory and we don't sell stamps, and I am not acquainted with James Strout of Rural avenue, but if you want to ride around the figure 8, all aboard."

"Well, I never!" said the woman. "Well, young man, there's one thing you kin do. You can hold your horses till I git my grip sack."

And they did, and the conductor helped her aboard with it, and on College street, near Skinner, she saw a family in a team, and she gave a yell that shut off the electricity quicker than a cat catches a rat.

It was her nephew.

Such are the tender ministrations of fate that watch over resolute women.—Lewiston Journal.

The French Lady Thought it a Question to Be Answered.

An American lady who spent some time in Paris says that she had a friend there, a French lady, who wished to learn a little English, and did so. Among her acquisitions in the language was the expression, "How do you do?" to which she was careful to learn the proper response.

One day the American lady met her French friend on the street. The American lady said, "How do you do?" with a smile, and passed on. She did not stop to notice that she had left the French lady standing on the street in astonishment.

Soon afterward she called on her friend, and was received very coldly by the French lady. As she did not know of any reason why the lady should be offended with her, she pressed her to tell what was the matter.

"Have I done anything to grieve you?" she asked.

"Anything to grieve me!" answered the French lady. "You meet me on the street, you ask me how I am, you do not wait to find out how I am, you pass on, and then you ask me whether you have done anything to grieve me!"

Then the American explained that it is not customary for Americans to wait for an answer to their inquiry, "How do you do?" that they commonly utter the words and pass on, or if they stop to speak, at once begin to talk of other matters.

The French lady could hardly express her astonishment. "The Americans do so many very strange things," she said, "but this is the strangest of all!"

The French, when they are of the degree of acquaintance that justifies inquiry as to the health of another, stop and hear all about it, and all about the health of the respective families. When all this information has been exchanged, the two persons part with many adieux and elaborate good wishes for each other's continued health and happiness.

The Italians frequently embrace one another in public places and shake hands several times and commit one another in parting to the care of God. The Americans and the English are the only people that question each other as to their health without stopping to find out anything about it.—Youth's Companion.

The Place For the Repentant.

They had eloped and returned for the parental blessing.

"Father," the beautiful young woman said, "we are sorry for what we have done. Will you?"

"Then," the stern old man interrupted, "why don't you go to the lawyer around the corner? I'm no divorce court."—Chicago News.

ENGLAND'S PREMIER.

WHAT IT MEANS TO BE THE BRITISH PRIME MINISTER.

Nowhere Else In the World Is There Any Position at Once So Powerful and So Anomalous—The Office Is Without Legal Foundation.

Nowhere else in the world is there any position at once so powerful and so anomalous. So long as he remains prime minister the premier of the United Kingdom is possessed of more real power than any single individual, unless it be the czar or the president of the United States.

Yet, great as is the power of prime minister, the office has no foundation on law. The prime minister is quite as unknown to the law as is the cabinet. If a legal pedant, blind to all facts not in the statutes or the textbooks of the common law, were asked to define the office of prime minister and to describe the cabinet, he would be utterly at a loss.

In theory the prime minister is only a privy counselor at the head of a department of state who is specially in the sovereign's confidence and who usually presides at an informal gathering of certain of the privy counselors who happen to hold offices of state—a gathering which is called the cabinet. That is the furthest which the legal pedant of our thought would dare to go. Yet, of course, the prime minister is, in fact, far more than the mere chairman of the cabinet.

The cabinet, no doubt, has a great deal of power, but even if it were true once it is certainly not true now that England is governed by a committee of 15 or 16 persons.

The prime minister, as a rule, makes his cabinet. He is commissioned by the queen to form a cabinet, because he is the man whom she considers to possess the confidence of a majority of the house of commons. He forms his cabinet by asking certain members of the two houses to hold the great offices of state. He might do this in one day and without consulting any one.

As a matter of fact, what usually happens is this: As soon as the commission to form a government has been received, the prime minister takes into his confidence the two or three who will hold the chief offices, and they talk together over the other names. When a man is decided upon, he, as a rule, joins the council and helps to consult as to men and places, and so the cabinet gradually evolves itself. No doubt, as generally happens in this world, the prime minister's choice is never really free.

Certain men must be in the cabinet, whatever happens, and hence they may be said not to be chosen by the premier, but to be ministers in their own right. In spite, however, of this, the fact that they are asked to serve by the premier makes them feel his superiority. When the cabinet is made, the theory of the unwritten constitution is that the cabinet governs. In reality it seldom does anything of the kind.

Each cabinet minister has very great power in his own department, but the cabinet as a cabinet can do little. Since, however, it knows everything that is going on it can exercise a great deal of indirect power. The previous knowledge that the majority of the cabinet would like or dislike a particular policy has a great influence, but still the cabinet does not rule. The prime minister summons, presides over and largely controls the cabinet meetings. If a vacancy occurs, he fills it up, and so can promote from the lower to the higher offices.

Then he can and does confer with his colleagues in regard to the business of their departments, and so has a hold upon the whole machine of government. Sir Robert Peel saw every member of his cabinet separately every day. Again, if there be a difference between two other members of the government, the premier decides. If there be an irreconcilable difference between himself and a minister, it is the minister and not the premier who resigns.

Lastly, the prime minister can, by resigning himself, dissolve the whole ministry. These things, small in themselves, taken together, make the prime minister's position what it is. He makes and can unmake a cabinet. He presides over it, and he has the right to advise in regard to every department, though this right is of course seldom exercised, and he has secured to him beforehand the support of the rank and file of his cabinet if it comes to a struggle between him and a colleague, because the rank and file know that if the premier is beaten he has it in his power to upset the whole machine of government.

Hence the voices of those who want to keep in office are always found on the side of the premier.—Pearson's Weekly.

4 YEARS THE STANDARD

Died.

SHIEL—John J. Shiel, a resident of Seymour for many years, died at 8 o'clock this morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Minnie Waldron, aged about 76 years. He had been in failing health for two months, and for the past few days his condition was such that there seemed but little hope for his recovery. The deceased was born in Ireland and came to this country nearly forty years ago. He located at Ewing where he operated a tannery for several years. Later he came to this city and has here assisted his son, John F., in the hide and leather business. He had many friends and acquaintances throughout the county. He leaves a family of four children: Mrs. Anna Brown, Mrs. Minnie Waldron, John F. of Seymour, and Edward of Indianapolis.

The funeral will take place from the Catholic church at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.

BREWER—Mrs. William Brewer, one of Seymour's most esteemed ladies, died at 11:30 o'clock Sunday forenoon of paralysis; the result of brain hemorrhage, aged nearly 77 years. She was in her usual health Friday morning and prepared breakfast. In a little while she complained of her throat hurting her and went to bed and a physician called. Everything possible was done to bring relief but all was in vain. She gradually grew worse until the hour of her death. She leaves a husband and three children, Calvin, of Columbus, Mrs. Sarah A. Ross, of Butleville, and Joseph of Seymour, who have the profound sympathy of a large circle of relatives and friends. The funeral will take place at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon from the residence on East Laurel street. Burial at River-view. Rev. J. M. Baxter will conduct religious services, she having been a member of the M. E. church since childhood.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Drink, Grain-O.

After you have concluded that you ought not to drink coffee. It is not a medicine but doctors order it, because it is healthful, invigorating and appetizing. It is made from pure grains and has that rich seal brown color and taste like the finest grades of coffee and costs about 1/4 as much. Children like it and thrive on it because it is a genuine food drink containing nothing but nourishment. Ask your grocer for Grain O, the new food drink. 15 and 25c.
